

Online tasks for the module “Financial Management”

Video blog

Background

You are a financial expert working for the Association of Rural Guesthouses in Szeklerland, Romania. Quite a few members of the Association, mainly owners of some guesthouses, are interested in the current issue regarding CHF-denominated loans. The discussion emerged after the release of several newspaper articles on 7 February 2017 alerting readers that the Romanian court found law on CHF loan conversion to be unconstitutional (follow link: <http://www.business-review.eu/news/major-ruling-romanian-court-says-law-on-chf-loan-conversion-is-unconstitutional-130033>).

The president of the Association has asked you (as the financial expert) to make a presentation about this topic in a video blog that can be easily shared among the members of the Association.

Task

Work in pairs and conduct some research on the internet about the topic (background information, who are the most affected, possible solutions offered by banks, solutions implemented in other Eastern European countries, laws etc.). Gather your findings and discuss about the structure of the presentation.

Think and discuss about the technical details of creating a video blog.

Remember your audience is made up of rural guesthouse owners who are not financial experts! Rephrase and reformulate technical terms and details into simple concepts and words so as they can understand the presentation.

A video blog is usually 10 minutes. In pairs discuss what information to include in the presentation.

Film the material, then do the editing work. Send your video blog to the other members of the class.
